

The World Herald, Omaha, Nebraska, September 1, 1934

Morris Newman Dies, Long a Grocer Here

Morris Newman, 73, 4859 Cuming street, a pioneer Omaha grocer who retired 15 years ago, died Friday morning at a local hospital.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. at the home with Rabbi Frederick Cohn in charge and interment at Pleasant Hill cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Fannie; three sons, J.M., H.A., and Albert A. Newman; one daughter, Mrs. W.J. McArdle; two brothers, J. Newman of Chicago and Al Newman of Excelsior Springs, Mo.; five sisters, Mrs. M. Silver of Sioux City, Mrs. Yetta Schonberger of Chicago, Mrs. Hannah Kline (sic) of San Francisco; Mrs. A. Newman and Mrs. Sam Sommer of Omaha, and three grandsons.